

Consider Becoming a VAWPP Educator!

WS271 Fall 07 Seminar in Rape Education and Awareness: One Voice, Changing One Mind, Changing One Campus

What Do I Do As a Member of the VAWPP Education Team?

- Join other dedicated men and women in developing expertise and understanding of the complicated issues surrounding sexual violence and campus community, through training retreats, and enrollment in WS271/272.
- Facilitate educational programs for the University community on issues related to gender, relationships, and sexual violence.
- Develop and implement campus-wide programs as part of Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Awareness Month.
- Participate in outreach to the local community around issues of sexual violence, including conducting educational workshops at local high schools, and raising awareness and support for local rape crisis and domestic violence agencies.
- Respond to issues related to gender and violence as they emerge on campus.

Do you ever wonder about the difficult realities of gender,
power, and victimization?

Do you ever wonder how you can make a difference with these complex issues?

Being a VAWPP Peer Educator gives you a voice—and the impact you can have is profound. We regularly have students share with us that our education about relationships, gender, and violence has allowed them to speak out for the first time, or to advocate for a loved one. Consider joining us in changing a mind, a heart, a campus...

CONTACT:

University of Connecticut Women's Center
Elizabeth J. Cracco, Ph.D.
Violence Against Women Prevention Program Coordinator
Storrs, CT 06269-1118
Email: Elizabeth.cracco@uconn.edu
Web: www.womenscenter.uconn.edu